Faith is a myth and beliefs shift like mists on the shore; thoughts vanish; words, once pronounced, die; and the memory of yesterday is as shadowy as the hope of to-morrow In this world-as I have known it-we are made to suffer without the shadow of a reason, of a cause or of guilt There is no morality, no knowledge and no hope; there is only the consciousness of ourselves which drives us about a world that A moment, a twinkling of an eye and nothing remains-but a clod of mud, of cold mud, of dead mud cast into black space, rolling around an extinguished sun. Sixteen, Oh holy day Your time has come and passed The rapture we've been waiting for Has come to us at last Sixteen for every fake Sixteen to every whore Wipe that dirt from off your face Sixteen is at your door Oh, voiceless, wasted You soaked your heart in gasoline Now light it up and burn [Chorus:] The same cycle ever-turning you is calling It's calling The scene is begging for a grave tonight It always, it always will You take the name of love divine And drag it through your blood Now turn to face what you have made And mourn what you have done Oh, voiceless, wasted You soaked your heart in gasoline Now light it up and burn Voiceless, wasted I came this far to drag you down And watch you take your turn [Chorus] Farewell to false pretension Farewell to hollow words Farewell to fake affection Farewell, tomorrow burns [Chorus].
